THE IDEAL COCHIN?

by Norman Rau

Should the Cochin breeders want to know what an "Ideal" Cochin looks like?

We all have a good general idea, but no one seems to agree on details. This is also apparently true with the judges.

A recent observation indicates to me that the judges need help, as we do, defining and selecting a good cochin. Recently at two shows, and one week apart, a black was best Cochin and reserve featherleg at the first show and placed fifth in her class the following week. The class of blacks was almost identical with only a few additions that did not alter the results. The best black at the second show placed third in his class at the first show!

It's possible, I suppose, a person could say that the class of blacks was so good that any one of the birds could win, or that it was so bad it was hard to pick a good one.

Both judges were "licensed" and I suppose the loser would say the judges "were no good", one could have been good and one could have been bad, one could have had a bad day or both could have bad days, or any other excuse one wants to make. I am convinced that we as breeders do not know or can agree on the details of an "Ideal Cochin", so if that is true how can we expect a judge to know?

A breeder said to me not long ago..." talk to the judge after the judging has been completed and find out what he's looking for, then next time you should win". I've heard others say "this guy likes them small" or "this guy likes them big and if you don't know bring one of each". Is it our objective to win at any cost by out writing the judge? It would appear that the legitimate breeder is trying to produce a perfect bird thereby winning in competition to prove it. If the above is the purpose of the majority then the perfect cochin has to be defined so that both breeder and judges can speak the same language. In examining the ABA standard, I see no reference to any cochin club offering assistance with the standard. It is my belief that the specialty club should be the developer of the "ideal". I would propose a committee of three reputable twenty year veteran breeders and exhibitors get together with a competent artist and draw a full size three dimensional model showing measurement that should be the "ideal" for today. To do this would eliminate from our written description the words...small, large stout, swarthy, short, long, etc.....words that absolutely have no meaning.

1996 WISCONSIN INT. / EASTERN NATIONAL

From the... President's Perch.....

This is time of the year that I find raising chickens to be the most fun. Winter in Wisconsin is just like you see on TV at "Lambeau Field", cold, windy, with lots of ice and snow on the ground. We will be -25 degrees tomorrow night. I can then retreat to my chicken house...heated to a temp. that I'm comfortable with... light jacket. I've sold and culled down to the birds I really want to keep. When I come into the coop I get more excited greeting than I get from my husband when I walk into the front door of the house. I anticipate the chicks that will hatch in Feb. and March. They are better to watch than television! Well so much for my winter..

FROM YE OLE EDITOR.....

Well it's only a week after mailing out the last newsletter and already I'm starting the next one. It was planned for Jan. 1st mailing, but I will wait until after the Eastern National ...so I can write up a report. Hopefully it will be well attended!!

As is usually the case I will be entering things in this column as I think about them or they are forwarded to me. So bear with me

HELP needed.....

Thomas Rice, PO Box 335 Thurmont, MD. 21788 301-898-8994 is looking for Brown red and Barred in Standards.....

This week I have received two articles for the newsletter relative to our standard and judging. Maybe just a coincidence... but... do we need to look at anything. My father's article revolves around two topics...weight and size...and judging inconsistency. I can identify with both...as my father and I have talked at great length about these two topics. Sour grapes doesn't enter into it at all, I, too, have seen gross inconsistencies. I showed a black hen who placed 6th out of 6 hens at a show (and I might add using the judge's checkmark system earned only one check... the other five got at least 2 checks with the winner getting four.), the following week, she was not only the class winner but best cochin in the show. For those who immediately 'scream' ...well how about feather quality and condition... I can vouch for the fact that she was no different in both shows. It was strictly a different judges interpretation on a different day. Interestingly enough, Bob Hawes, a licensed judge, suggested the hen in the first show WAS indeed the best cochin in the show not 6th! It is not my intent to beat up on judges. I suspect in any given show ...even the veteran entrants would be hard pressed to all pick the same "best cochin". So what is the problem. I suspect...interpretation of a vague standard. I believe this is the point my father is trying to make. Is it time to take a hard look at the standard... only the specialty club(s) involved can decide! We are that club... COCHINS INTERNATIONAL! The second issue is the issue of size or weight in our bantams. Here is an area where I disagree somewhat with dear ole Dad. Size perception I believe is the key. To weigh all specimens is unworkable....I do believe many cochin bantams are grossly overweight (when you get a chance weigh YOUR birds...I think you will be surprised). So in my view we as breeders have the responsibility to work to keep at least the "appearance" of our birds "small"they are bantams!

Are OUR COCHIN BANTAMS too big???

The other day I had a very nice phone conversation with Brian Justice. We, of course, talked "cochins" at great length. However, the reason Brian called was for clarification regarding Master Points and membership "names". Question: If Brian joins CI as a family ...are all his family members entitled to master points individually? As we evolve as a club issues such as these must be answered. The worst thing that can happen to a club is to have different rules for different people. I have been guilty of this regarding master points. For example, I know Mark and Larry Peterson are a team...however, in the past sometimes they would enter individually... I did give the team of Larry & Mark Peterson the points each received. I am not sure this is right and I know it creates a lot of extra work for yours truly! I might add Larry & Mark have since consolidated their "name", which I greatly appreciated. What would happen if we had 1000 members and 700 of them were listed as partners, husband and wife or families. The work involved would be overwhelming. Since my conversation with Brian, I have been in contact with

In the current standard there is one requirement that we should all be able to agree upon and that is weight. However, if the judge adhered to the weight requirements there would probably be no birds in the show ...or at the very least most would be disqualified.

The weight standard for bantams is 30 oz. cock, 26 oz. hen, 26 oz. cockeral, 24 oz. pullet. Disqualification is 4 oz. over 30 oz. ? At one show a judge placed a cochin of superior type 2nd because it was too big and wouldn't easily fit through the show pen door! If the bird was truly over the 4 oz. allowance, it should have been disqualified and I do not believe any judge should disqualify a bird for weight (i.e. size) without the use of scales. I believe the standard for weight should be 26 oz. through 34 oz. all ages and both sexes. Scales should be made available to judges.

Some of the articles in the booklet, "Cochin Bantams" refers to an "ideal". If an "ideal" does exist should't it be made available? (Ideal=Picture?)

The following sketches are to show how, I believe, one way that an "ideal" Cochin can be visualized. Then perhaps a written description can be used to supplement the drawings.

(Unfortunately, due to space limitations I didn't have space for sketches. Sorry Dad!)

Norman Rau has been showing pigeons and poultry for almost 40 years. He has not only been an officer of numerous clubs and organizations over the years, but also has served as show secretary of numerous shows including the Boston Poultry Show when it was considered THE SHOW. Presently, retired, living in Boothbay, Maine...he breeds and shows "Show King" pigeons and "Cochin" bantams. Responses can be addressed to Box 218, Back River Rd. Boothbay, Me.04537 both Tim and Pat. They were in agreement that based on the work involved. The following clarification is necessary. Master points will be awarded to each member as it appears on the secretaries record. The following examples should answer any questions.

1. Member name: Bill & Mary Smith

Entries at shows should be Bill&Mary Smith or B&M Smith. Entries under the name of Bill Smith would not receive points under the membership of Bill & Mary Smith. Nor would Mary Smith. Of course, Mary Smith could receive points individually but only if she paid separate dues. There could be two or even three different memberships in this case, each earning Master Points.

Membership name: The Jones Family
For a family to receive points, entries at shows must be listed as Jones Family. If Bob Jones enters birds under his name, points will not be awarded. If Bob, wife Pat and son Gerry all want to earn points and be listed separately, then they must all pay individual dues. Although I am relatively new to this club, I do not think a "family membership" was intended to be tied into the concept of master points.

Membership name: Johnny's Bantams
Similar to the family name above. Entries should be made as Johnny's Bantams. If show entries are received as John Jones, they will not be recorded under Johnny's Bantams.

I hope this clarifies the awarding of points. Some of you will be directly impacted by these "rules". All points already awarded will be grandfathered. If any of you feel slighted or are angered by these decisions...please consider the amount of work that goes into the newsletter by ye ole editor and the amount of additional work that otherwise would be required.

Elsewhere in this newsletter you will see a list of the current membership as of 10/1/96. Points, from this point on, will be awarded based on the NAMES printed in this list. IF you would like your "points" name different from that which is listed, please send the change to me ASAP. (Karl Rau RR2 Box 3350 South China, Maine 04358).

FROM: Tim Hooker V.P.

Hello fellow cochin lovers.

If you haven't heard, I'm taking over Elton Minnich's place as VP of our great club. We all need to give great thanks to Elton for his commitment and hard work for our club. I'm looking forward to the challenge myself. I'll be looking for input from all of you. Let's get our ideas and club's problems out in the open, and try to resolve them. Instead of complaining under our breath. We need to unify as one and become an even stronger club.

The 1996 Eastern Cochin National is history. Held in Sept. at the Wisconsin International. The show was wonderful, very well run. Pat Lacey, an officer of WIPC did a great job hosting our national meet, much thanks to all members of WIPC for their hard work. The meet was a fine one. 173 total cochins were shown. There were many different colors, both bantam and standard. Competition was stiff, but very friendly. A "separate champions row" was set up for the cochins. Terry Britt judged the birds and did a great job. Champion cochin overall was a black pullet by Tim Hooker, reserve was a white hen by Pat Lacey. Champion standard was a buff cockerel by L&M Peterson, while reserve was a buff cockerel by Brian Justice. Congratulations to all.

It's hard to believe, but it's breeding time here in the midwest. I've started breeding birds and setting eggs. Oh Boy! Try to time your hatches so they are 8/9 months old for your favorite shows..

Put lots of thought into your matings. Take great care of those chicks from start to finish. Work hard ..don't slack off.... it pays! Until next time...

Sincerely, Tim Cochin Power!

CLEAVAGE WHO NEEDS IT?

by Robert Hawes

"Balance", that's the one word to describe a good cochin. This means that the legs are mid-way of the body. With legs too far back we produce the "guinea-hen" posture, something we often see in the less popular varieties. Legs too far forward result in low breasts and high tails. Stick a handle in the vent and you have a self-propelled dust-mop.

Study the bird on page one of the November Poultry Press. This cockerel by Tim Hooker looks close to ideal to me.

But, and here's my problem, balance means a full and prominent breast to counter-balance the full and broad tail. Now the "standard" states that the breast should be carried well forward, extremely full, well rounded, of great breadth and depth. Both the ABA and the APA descriptions are worded similarly.

If you are fortunate enough to possess a prominent, full, rounded, broad, and deep breast you would like it to be smooth, undivided, without cleft, without split, and no cleavage here, please.

Having kept several varieties of cochin bantams over many years I've seen most of the body styles: short, tall, squat, leggy, narrow, pinched, shallow breasted, etc. So when I find that well-balanced, full-breasted bird, I'm excited. Well, as excited as Mainers can get. But when you also find a deep cleft in an otherwise perfect breast, it does cause one to resort to low-level profanity. The problem is that the better specimens seem to exhibit cleavage and it is often not evident until after washing.

Case in point, this past summer I watched two buff pullets developing pretty good type, pretty good color, full fronts, no cleavage. They were from two different "non-cleavage" matings, not even half sibs. They were bathed for the New Hampshire show and within 24 hours-cleavage!

Most exhibitors, including myself, do not care for split breasts, and I notice that buffs are not alone in showing this defect. Some other breeds also show the problem but on these breeds the shape and size of the breast is of less importance than in the cochin.

The obvious advice is to cull all birds with this defect. Easier said than done in small flocks. Should we ask the ABA/APA to list split breasts as a defect? Probably if your variety shows it you'd be inclined to say no. If it is not listed as a defect, should a judge give it consideration? He/she isn't obligated to do so. Is it worth worrying about? Who needs it? Opinions appreciated?

Bob Hawes is a semi-retired professor from the University of Maine system...long time breeder of cochin and rock bantams. Currently Bob leads our Cochins International club in master breeder points in the buff bantam variety. Bob invites any responses. Bob Hawes, Short Wharf Rd., Hampden, Maine 04444.

CONGRATULATIONS!

1997 EASTERN NATIONAL REPORT

by K. Rau

My hopes for our 1997 CI National in Springfield were twofold. With our near record breaking premiums for just COCHINS, I prayed that some "new blood" would appear. Secondly, I had hoped for a large entry. Both "hopes" came true. With 245 cochins, both large and small, it became the largest cochin show in New England in recent memory. With the help of Charlie Anderson, Bob Hawes and myself.....a new display table was set up for Cochins International. There were newsletters, applications for new members, and some cochin artwork.....a very professional display. Elsewhere in this newsletter, you will see some photographs of the "champions", complements of yours truly. My thanks to Bob Hawes and Jeff Ryan for helping setting up the birds for the "photo shoot". Here's hoping the photos look good!

Ric Porr was the judge chosen by the CI membership. Always a tough job when the entries are high... an excellent and professional job. I was very happy to see some good entries in colors other than the usual black and white. There was 31 buffs and even 12 columbian!

I was really looking forward to this show and was not disappointed. It was the deepest selection of quality cochins I have seen in a long time. There were probably a dozen birds that were good enough to have been selected BB! Last year's Springfield show left a bad taste for some...because of the unfortunate judging by a non-licensed judge. This year was great! The complete results are found in the SHOW section. Below are the cash and or trophy award winners :

on to the business of the club.

The 1996 Nationals were a great success. The Wisconsin International in Sept.(E) and the APA National at Hutchinson, MN (W) each had over 100 bantams entered and each had large entries of large cochins. Terry Britt judged Wisconsin, and John Thomforde at MN. The Wisconsin show provided a cochin champion row that was very impressive. Competition was tough! I don't know how sportsmanship is in your cochin aisles, but we have a lot of fun. We let the birds compete, not the exhibitors.

Elections have been recorded. Please support your local district directors and your club officials, who give of their free time to operate your club. Don't forget Karl and the Newsletter. Karl does a fine job but he needs your help with photos, articles, cartoons, stories, chicken information that you may have to send him. Input from the membership is what makes the newsletter interesting.

The district directors voted unanimously on a constitutional change. It reads as follows.... A member will be allowed to buy back master points if a membership has lapsed for 1 year. You must make payment for the current year and the year that has lapsed. This would allow the reinstatement of the master points up to the year of the lapse. Only a 1 year buy back would be allowed. Since many of us in our lives can experience a year of confusion due to a loss of job, having to move, care for a sick child, parent, spouse, go through a divorce, we felt this was creating a kinder, gentler club.

Jeff Ryan is going to do another breeder directory for us. YEAH! It will be only as good as the correct and current information given to him. Please complete when you fill out your 1997 membership, or contact him personally. We are looking at a fall printing.

Still have not received the APA paintings for male and female brown red and birchen bantam cochin. When we do we will have pictures of them in the newsletter for those interested in bidding on them.

Tom Hooker is not only our new VP but also our trophy chairman. He is the one that will order and mail out our trophies for our national and District meets. We will try our best to shorten the time between the show that you won at and the time that you receive the trophy. Most show secretaries take up to 6 mo. in filing the show report. When Karl receives the show report, he forwards a copy to Tim and Tim orders the trophies. The making of the trophies may take another month. You can be looking at 6-8 months before you receive your award. Please understand why it takes so long! We also decided to use Castlebury Plaques for the Master Breer Points award. These plaques will have a raised relief cochin on the plaque. They are very impressive. Just a reminder to send your notarized letter to the APA if you are not in favor of shows using unlicensed judges. The responses they are getting will make a difference.. so please take the time to write to the APA secretary Lorna Rhodes 133 Millsville St. Mendon, MA 01756.

Should anyone decide to sponsor any type of a traveling memorial trophy the sponsor is responsible for all costs of shipping and engraving. The club feels that this a commendable endeavor. We cannot, however, be responsible for the costs incurred by these awards.

There have been some rumblings that we should have only 1 National, and alternate 1 year on the east of the Mississippi and the next west. Believe me, placing two Nationals is a big job and it is mine, but I like 2 Nationals. Let us know your feelings.

Don't forget our cochin book. We need articles! Here are some ideas from Dennis Wollard. Buying your first Cochin. Breeding Standard Cochins. Breeding Bantam Cochins. Cochin diseases and pests in the North/South. Judging Cochins. Preparing the birds for a show. Transporting birds safely. Cochins travel the electronic highway. How to support your cochin club. AI. Natural Breeding. Setting & Brooding chicks naturally. Photographing your birds. The perfect cochin/European style.

Another item that needs clarification is the family membership. We offer a family membership for $15. This entitles each family to compete for the trophies offered by the club at National and District meets. It also offers 1 entry into the master points program. A uniform name MUST be used on all of your entry show forms to ensure proper credit for points earned. If more than the 1 master breeder entry is desired, separate memberships must be purchased. If a JR. wishes to compete on the master breeder level, a separate JR. membership must be purchased with the JR. competing in the OPEN CLASS. The family membership also includes a newsletter 3 times a year. Each additional membership will receive a newsletter.

I wish for you a short winter, a great hatch and at least one show champion.

Pat Lacey President.

Greetings From LA. Wayne Melancon

Well the mosquitoes are starting to disappear with the first real cool weather we finally have. Since Christmas is only 2 weeks away, it's about time.

I hope everyone is planning to attend the Western National in Altus, OK. this March. It should be a real nice show. I went to Oklahoma for the first time last week, to the Sooner Classic in Claremore. The scenery was beautiful. The cochin entries were not as large as I would have thought, although feather leg entries were over 300. This was due to both Silkies and Favorolles holding their Nationals. Fred McGehee had both BB and RB on a couple of blacks. One went on to be reserve feather leg.

Dennis Wollard and myself along with son Joey have been going to a couple of shows together and sharing expense. It really helps stretch your dollars when you can do this. Besides Claremore, we also went together to Sequin, TX for the Texas Nationals. A nice class of cochins were there. Don Holt has his buff cochins really coming around. He says he hatched over 200 this year. Imagine that many buffs in one place. It kind of brings back old memories of what buffs used to be. I also saw some nice blues in the JR. show. I think they were for the Tyner kids. hile there, several cochin exhibitors met to revive the Texas Cochin Club. Bill Hopkins took on the position of secretary and Bob Hughes looks like the man to be President. You people in TX need to support this club and keep it going. Dennis and I asked that club members join CI and Bill Hopkins showed support by joining on the spot.

It is with deep regret I have to mention the loss of a true fancier from the state of TX. On Nov. 27, 1996 Ima Joachimi passed away after a battle with cancer. She was the main driving force behind the League City Club, along with her husband Willard. Our deepest condolences of out to all the Joachimi family. While in Sequin, word had reached us of her declining health. Before the show got started Pat Malone lead the exhibitors in prayer and it was clear to see how everyone felt about her. Well Dennis seems to be holding his own with the standards and Joey is doing really well in the JR. shows. I ain't winning much but they say I can keep paying my share of the expenses. Wait until Altus. Then we'll see who can't win. I'm going to surprise both of them.

When you see me or Dennis at the shows, please stop and introduce yourself and chat awhile. Dennis likes talking cochins and I'm Cajun so you know I just like to talk about anything. If you have any news you would like included in our newsletter for the southeast district, please write me and I will be happy to include it. Hope you all have a champion or two this year. See you in Altus.

(208 Durocher St. Thibodaux, LA)

THIS ACTUALLY HAPPENED TO ME!!!!!!!

This week at Springfield, a 35 year old gentleman approached me and pointed to one of my 10 mo. old blue cockerels and said how many eggs does he lay. I responded that cochins might lay between 10-50 eggs. He said "in a year". I said yes. He said would you sell him. I said maybe. But HE won't lay any eggs! His response...then I guess I don't want him. Karl.

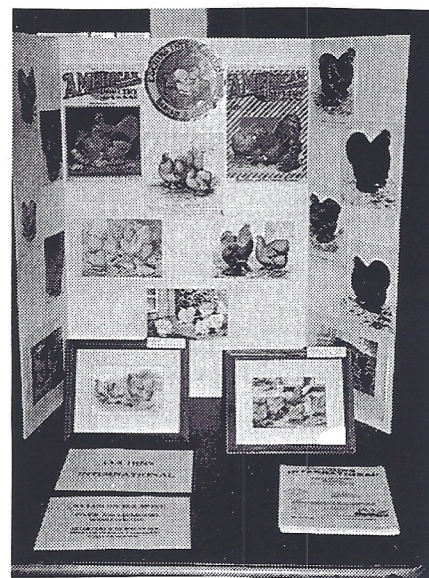

FROM; BERNICE MACLAREN

Our district meet was held in Fergus, ONT. at Colwyn Stables, what a beautiful place to have our show. Paul Homer and his committee spent two days setting up this show, they went all out, all single decked and single cooped, the cochins were set up in the main isle. You couldn't miss them. All tables were dressed up e=with skirts and pots of flowers were spread out throughout the show room. Cedar trees graced each end of the rows... along with a display of hand carved and decorated chickens of all the breeds you can imagine.

Congratulations to Ray Watford, on his big win with his black cochin hen, she went on to be the champion standard of the show.

It really was a sight to see, 21 white standards in row. I was lucky enough to pick up the two best because it was a tight class., and there was not a bad one out of the 21. The judge had his work cut out for him.

A big thank you goes out to Liz Redshaw for sharing her beautiful stables with us. We are all ready for another District Meet on Sept. 28, 97. So get those cochins hatched out as soon as possible. See you there .

Dear CI Members;

A new year is here and make that resolution to check your mailing label to make sure your dues are paid. Dues are payable on January 1st and are past due on April 1st. Remember that if dues are not paid by April 1st then delinquent members are dropped from the membership (and you will forfeit your accumulated master points....kr) . I will remind our foreign members that dues are payable by US Postal Money order or bank draft drawn on a US bank. Currently the club has 80 paid members for 97,98,99.... PAY for several years so will not have to worry about paying annually.

If you remember last March the club sponsored partnership for the new APA standard. The paintings are near completion. Photographs will next be made for the revision committee to review and when approved will be shipped to Vi Halbach and forwarded to me. The club will have the Brown Red Cochinchina bantam, male and female and the Birchen cochinchina bantam make and female paintings available to the highest bidder over $120 per pair for Birchen and $120 per pair for Brown Red. Make plans to bid on these beautiful oil paintings. More information will be in the next newsletter.

Hope this finds everyone good health and that everyone has a great new year.

Sincerely ... Dennis Wollard.

CLUB BROCHURE

Hello from Ohio,
 My name is Brian Justice. I live in Pomeroy, which is 100 miles south of Columbus, Ohio right on the banks of the Ohio River. I'm the new director of the Northcentral District. First I would like to thank Tim Hooker for the work and dedication he has given to Cochins International as a district director. He will no doubt represent Cochins International well in his new position as vice-president.

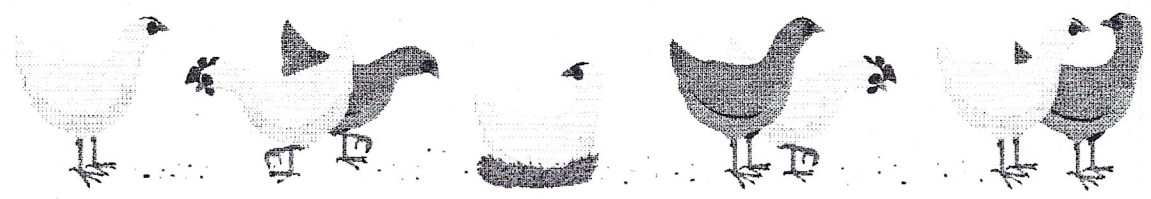

I will do my best to represent and keep the members of this district informed. If anyone has any questions or needs help, please don't hesitate to call or write me. I'd be more than happy to help.

CLUB MEETS

As of January the 20 I have sent information on Regional meets to the Buckeye Fancy Feather Club, Illini Poultry Club, Dayton Fancy Feather Club, and Southern Ohio Poultry Assoc.. I will have the necessary information in the mail to the rest of the clubs in the District by the end of February. If your club has not recieved anything by than, please contact me.

The 1997 District Meet has been placed with the Kentuckiana Poultry Club at New Albany, Indiana.
 Show date May 17.

CLUB BROCHURE

While at the Indiana Poultry Breeders Show, I mentioned to Pat Lacey that it would be nice if Cochins International had a brochure of information to hand out at shows to promote club membership.

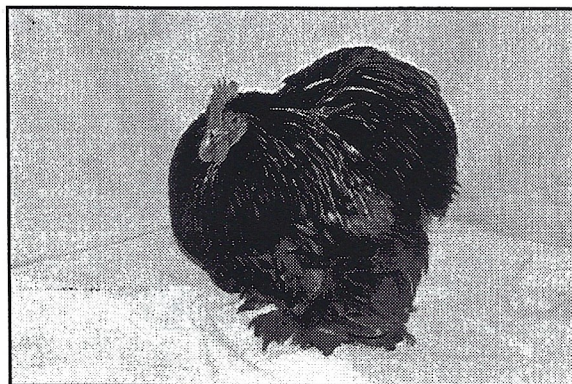

After a short conversation, I found myself in charge of trying to put together a club brochure.

The first draft has been sent to Pat Lacey and Tim Hooker to be edited. Hopefully, we'll have it completed before the spring shows and ready to distribute.

Hope you enjoyed the photos of the two national meets. I took 96 shots to get what you see...sometimes they just won't pose. A couple were not published because they were not very complementary. This newsletter has been the most time consuming yet ... to make just one of the photo pages took over an hour! Thanks to Peter Luca and others who have thanked me for my labor. As I said to Peter...keep showing and supporting CI...that's all the thanks I need. Have a great year and find a new member. Karl.
